MEDICINAL.

FANTASTIC stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases. Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Banks, of 100 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done me a world of good. I had female weakness for six years, sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

Figgs, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Or for cloth-bound volume send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

RECEPTIONS TO PRINCE HENRY.

Yesterday Prince Henry spent a quiet morning on the yacht Hohenzollern. At 12:30 p. m., he attended a magnificent luncheon at Sherry's, in New York, at which were present 137 persons, including leading financiers of America, "captains of industry," as they were called. He went to the Arion Society's hall at 6:30 p. m., and reviewed a torchlight procession of German societies. He attended at night a banquet of the American press at the Waldorf-Astoria and made a speech.

There were 1,000 newspaper men at the banquet.

The Prince was the special guest at the banquet given by the New York Staats Zeitung and gathered at the table were many leading figures in journalism of the country and made one of the most noteworthy gatherings of their profession ever assembled in the United States.

The banquet was given in the handsome ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, but that immense apartment was not large enough to accommodate the numerous guests and the Astor Gallery was also used. The two rooms were splendidly decorated. Mr. Herman Ridder, of the Staats Zeitung, and a special guest, sat at an elevated table above which were the American and German flags. The staffs were crossed and the banners, draped in like, reached out like the wings of a huge butterfly. Above them was the Prussian eagle in incandescent lights. From the boxes hung trailing vines and set in on bridges were hundreds of palms. E. J. the house of the American Society, around which were candles shaded in red.

As the dinner took their places many ladies of the party appeared in the boxes which wall the room.

Prince Henry, attended by the members of his suite, drove to the hotel under escort of cavalry and mounted police. The demonstration in the streets, leading to the hotel was the most crowded of any that has so far marked his appearance in public. Great crowds lined the way and pressed against the police guards which had been thrown around the Thirty-third street entrance to the hotel. They cheered when the Prince came in sight and he frequently raised his hand to his cap in acknowledgment of the demonstrations.

The Prince reached the hotel at 8:30 o'clock and was received by Mr. Ridder. They shook hands warmly. While they paused for a brief talk the members of the suite and the representatives of President Roosevelt filed into the ballroom. The band played as the first of the uniformed staff entered and the crowd of guests arose. There was a great cheer as the Prince appeared and another when he took his place at the side of Mr. Ridder at the special table.

Those who occupied seats with the host and the chief guests were:

Edward P. Call, Lieutenant Governor of Woodruff, Consul-General Buez, Maurice E. Stinson, Admiral Evans, Captain Von Mueller, Mayor Low, Admiral Von Seckendorff, Assistant Secretary Hill, Frank B. Noyes, General Von Plessen, Bishop Potter, Whitehead Reid, Ambassador Von Holsten, Edward Uni, Archbishop Corrigan, Admiral Von Tirpitz, Senator Lodge, Admiral Von Elsendeche, Charles Emory Smith, Senator Hawley, Senator Dewey, Admiral Count Baudissin, Charles W. Knapp, Captain Von Graunne, Gen. H. C. Corbin, Rev. Dr. Gotthel, William C. Bryant.

As the Prince took his seat the electric lights were flashed into the Prussian eagle above him on the southern wall, and the power was also increased in each of the 2,500 incandescent lights that burned in the room. It gave special brilliancy to an already attractive scene.

Mr. Ridder called upon Bishop Potter, who said grace. A small army of waiters quickly filled the tables between the tables, and with an order that was remarkable in such a large gathering the banquet began.

As the evening proceeded hundreds of handsomely gowned women filled the boxes above the dining hall. An orchestra high up in the second tier of boxes played popular national music. When a tune caught its fancy the crowd sang it. At "Die Wacht am Rhein" the guests arose, and after singing it lustily there were loud cheers. "America" got the same enthusiastic treatment.

Statements of Prince Henry were distributed as souvenirs.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Ridder, rapping for attention, proposed the health of the President of the United States and Kaiser Wilhelm, and called upon Whitehead Reid to respond. Mr. Ridder said:

"Your Royal Highness and Gentlemen: I have the pleasure and the honor of offering the health of the President of the United States and the German Emperor, which I ask you to rise and drink. I couple with this sentiment the name of Hon. Whitehead Reid, the distinguished editor of the New York Tribune."

Mr. Reid responded in an eloquent speech.

Mr. Ridder followed Mr. Reid and
